Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

A blessed and holy Lent to each of you.

At our Spring House of Bishops meeting at Kanuga, Tom Ely and I have been given four hours on Saturday's agenda (14 March) to facilitate a conversation on marriage as we look ahead to General Convention. As you know, the Report from the Task Force on the Study of Marriage (A050) was released early this month and we hope you've had a chance to read it. If you have not, we urge you to do so prior to our conversation on Saturday at the House of Bishops so that we can all be prepared to engage this subject.

In order to make our conversation more effective, we have attached our agenda with the questions we hope that conversation will address. We are grateful to have been given a substantial block of time and know that we can expect many insights to emerge and to take back for further discussion in our deputations.

As always, I look forward to our gathering and the fellowship and prayer that surround us.

May God grace us with many blessings as we prepare to gather.

In Christ,

Andrew Waldo
