

A Survey on Theological Education for the Members of the House of Bishops

This email contains the link to a survey for members of the House of Bishops regarding the state of theological education in the Episcopal Church. I hope you will take the survey and submit it.

The bishops who are members of the General Board of Examining Chaplains have prepared it as a resource for our discussion of theological education when the House of Bishops meets in September. When you submit your survey, it will go to an online database that will then be collated. We hope to present the results to the House. If you include your name, it will NOT be listed with your comments in any document that we publish.

If you have any problems accessing this survey, please email Larry Benfield at BishopBenfield@mac.com and I will try to help you find a way to make the survey work for you.

Many thanks in advance for participating. The results will be very beneficial as we try to determine the best ways of providing good theological education for people who will be ordained in the Episcopal Church.

Larry Benfield

The survey link is:

<http://www.formstack.com/forms/?964017-8vOtCXvmdM>